MRS. PANKHURST IS RE-ARRESTED IN LONDON.

Suffragette Released, Owing to Her Health, Held Again.

Action Taken Under the "Cat and Mouse" Law Recently Enacted.

LONDON, May 26.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader who was released from Holloway jail on license April 12, owing to the serious condition of her health, arising from her "hunger strike," was re-arrested today when she was leaving the house where she has been staying.

The House of Commons passed a new law, known as the "cat and mouse" bill permitting the prison authorities to release suffragettes suffering from the effects of "hunger strikes," and at the end of a short period to re-arrest them without warrant and make them serve the remainder of their original sentence. Mrs. Pankhurst's license released her for 14 days, but it was then extended in consequence of her feeble condition.

Mrs. Pankhurst was formally arraigned at the Bow Street police court this afternoon and ordered by the magistrate to be taken to Holloway jail, to complete her interrupted sentence.

During the police court hearing she made a long statement to the magistrate to the effect that her health was not yet restored, but the magistrate declined to take it into consideration.

Mrs. Pankhurst, as she left the police court on her way to jail, declared her intention of "hunger striking until she dies or the government gives the women the preliminary vote."

INTERCEPTED BY GUARDS.

Two Suffragettes Try to Damage Golf Links at St. Andrews.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 26.—Two militant suffragetes tried during the night to damage the golf links here and so interfere with the opening of play today for the amateur golf championship of the world. The women approached the seventeenth green, where they were intercepted by the night guards woh have been on duty in considerable force for over a week, owing to threats uttered by some of the militant leaders. One of the women escaped, but the other was caught. She was liberated, however, after being searched, and was not handed over to the police.

EMPEROR YOSHIHITO BETTER.

Empress Ill from a Cold Contracted During Her Husband's Illness.

TOKIO, May 26.—Emperor Yoshihito is better, but the Empress Sadako has fallen ill from a cold contracted during her long vigil at her husband's bedside. Her illness, though not serious, has caused her to be confined to her room and on the advice of the physicians in attendance she will not be present at tomorrow's meeting of the Red Cross Society of Japan, for which arrangements had been made.

POSSIBLE DISASTER AVERTED.

Stam Escapes from Crack in Tube of the Paul Jones's Boiler.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 26.—The lives of 50 sailors on torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones were endangered Friday, at the sam hour of the explosion on destroyer Stewart, according to information while leaked out today. The Paul Jones was making a speed test when a fireman noticed steam escaping from a crack in the tube of one of th boilrs. The discovery was in time to avert a possible disaster.

The Paul Jones's boilers have been condemned and the ship will be sent at once to Mare Island navy yard for repairs.

YALE ADDS TO RECORD.

Other College Base Ball Teams Gather Strength for Crucial Tests.

BOSTON, May 26.—While Yale's crack base ball nine goes merrily on, adding to its inter-collegiate record of consecutive victories, now numbering 17, at the expense of some rivals, other colleges are gathering strength for the crucial tests of the season. These now closely approach.

The past week in college base ball was notable not only for Yale's repeated success but also for the acquired strength of the Harvard nine. Pennsylvania and Princeton went down before the Crimson, the latter by a 7 to 0 score. The Tigers had been mending well, but Harvard's overwhelming victory showed Princeton coaches new points for improvement, necessary to bring the team to the form needed when it opposes Yale in the first game of their series next Saturday.

Pennsylvania supporters found satisfaction in their team's defeat of Michigan Saturday, and to Cornell followers the work of the Ithacan nine pushing Yale eleven innings was accepted as honor in defeat.

ORDER MAINTAINED IN LITTLE COMPTON.

At the Portuguese celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi in Little Compton Sunday everything passed off all right so far as the celebration proper was concerned. When some of the rival factions of Portuguese who were there tried to raise trouble by starting fights, Deputy Sheriff King and his cohorts soon showed the would-be fighters that there was an organized force ready to repel boarders. There were several attempts at rows, but all were nipped in the bud.

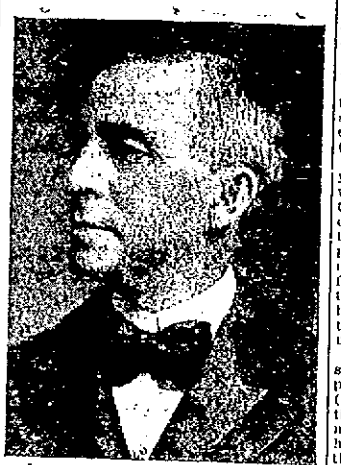
FOUR VACANT CHAIRS.

Old and New Soldiers and Sailors, With Associates, Join in Memorial.

Dr. McKeever, at Second Baptist Church, Bases Sermon on Faith of Roman Centurion.

Veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars, members of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, enlisted men of the army and navy and the army post associates united Sunday evening in an annual memorial Sunday service at the Second Baptist Church and, after listening to the regular Grand Army ritual, heard an able sermon by Rev. Franklin G. McKeever, D. D., who had for his subject "The Faith of a Soldier."



Rev. F. G. McKeever, D. D.

The audience filled the church completely, there being no seats available by 8 o'clock. The service began at 7:30 and lasted until 9 o'clock, exactly. About 150 men from the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association were present, with one of the secretaries, a patriotic service of this naure being naturally, of particular interest to them.

Commander William S. Bailey presided, and seated on the platform with him were Adjutant Charles M. Clarke, Senior Vice Commander William S. Slocum, Junior Vice Commander Charles F. Paddock, Officer of the Day Frank P. Gomes and Chaplain John T. Delano, while directly in front of them were four vacant chairs, one for each comrade who had died during the year.

The service opened with the singing of "Old Glory Is Waving," by a quartet, made up as follows: Miss Cora M. Gosling soprano and director; Miss Rowena MacLellan, contralto; Dr. H. H. Luther, tenor and Mr. H. M. Cross, bass, with Mr. Leslie Peckham as organist.

Commander Bailey, after a brief address to the post and the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, called on the adjutant general for the record of deceased members. This was given by Mr. Charles H. Clarke, and included a brief history of each comrade. After each name a ruffle was played by Drummer Patrick, and after the last name taps was sounded by Master Sumner Clarke. The congregation rose during this ceremony.

The list of those who have died during the year is as follows:

James McCaster—Birthplace New York. First enlisted December 3, 1863, as landsman U. S. navy ship North Carolina; discharged December 3, 1864. Joined Lawton Post, No. 5, July 27, 1910. Died June 4, 1912, aged 70 years.

William O. Milne—Birthplace Newport. First enlisted September 4, 1861, Battery D, First Rhode Island light artillery; discharged July 11, 1865. Joined the Grand Army July 2, 1873, and served as department commander of Rhode Island in 1908. Died June 16, 1912, aged 69 years.

Frank S. Booth—Birthplace New Hampshire. First enlisted August 18, 1862, in Company C, Tenth New Hampshire volunteers; discharged June 30, 1865. Died December 29, 1912, aged 75 years.

John R. Leslie—Birthplace Scotland. First enlisted September 1, 1861, as lieutenant, Company B, Twentieth New York volunteers; discharged as major Eightieth New York volunteers February 6, 1866. Died February 14, 1913, aged 80 years.

After the singing of "The Recessional" (Reginald DeKoven by the choir, and the offering, Rev. Dr. McKeever preached the sermon, speaking about 40 minutes. His text was found in Matthew VIII:10 "When Jesus heard it He marvelled and said to them that followed, verily I say unto you I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel."

Dr. McKeever based his sermon on the life of the Roman centurion, who has been stamped for al time as a man of great faith. Faith is a humble characteristic, yet the Saviour has said that mountains of difficulty will be removed by it. Faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. This mighty centurion subordinated himself, his will, his all, to Jesus of Nazareth. That is wh thew orld remembers him.

Speaking at some length regarding faith and its attributes Dr. McKeever showed how absolutely necessary it is to depend on faith for some things, just as the centurion did. We are living in a time, he said, when the spirit of independence seems about the only thing worth striving for. It is well to teach our children independence, to teach them to depend on their own exertions. There is a false idea of independence, however, which consists in thinking that we are bound to no man; it is a false independence—that sort.

There is noi bondage so galling, no shackle so chafing, as unbelief, Dr. McKeever went on. The man of unbelief has before him no sunshine, no hours of joy. The centurion believed simply and truly. He was a man of authority, and learned through his occupation. God is continually teaching us through our occupation. And so it is the soldier's wonderful faith teaches us faith.

After the sermon, the quartet sang "The Star Spangled Banner," the audience standing, and after a short prayer the service closed with the benediction by Dr. McKeever.

FRIEDMANN TREATMENT CONSIDERED DANGEROUS.

New York Board of Health Urged to Prohibit Use of Serum.

Patients Subjected Have Not Improved But Lost Ground to Great Extent.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Dr. Joseph J. O'Connell, health officer of the port of New York, sent a letter today to Health Commissioner Lederle requesting him to submit to the board of health, at its next meeting, a resolution prohibiting the administration of the Friedmann treatmen for tuberculosis in New York, "until such time as those interested affirmatively in its administraion shall satisfy the health department of its innocuous character."

"The reports of the investigator of your department," reads the letter," whose peculiar experience with tuberculosis gives such reports a rare compelling force, are all to the effect that the dangers which might be apprehended in such a form of treatment are actually present therein. He finds that the patients subjeced to this treatment have not improved, but have lost ground to an extent greater than might be expected from the natural ravages of the disease.

"He finds that where the tuberculosis condition had affected one side prior to innoculation with the serum (sic) there was after such innoculation an unnaturally rapid development of the tubercular process on the hitherto healthy side, which indicates that the operation of the alleged cure had a endency to accelerate rather than retard the progress of the disease.

"It seems to me that it would be culpable for us to longer hesitate and that our duty now is to insist upon such a regulation and supervision of this enterprise as shall prevent the perpetration upon the public of a dangerous and cruel fraud. We cannot overlook the fact that this treatment has been exploited much after the manner of the exploitation of certain so-called mining securities and other financial schemes from which the credulous public has suffered.

"The wide advertisement of the serum has had an effect of awakening a final and pitiful hope in the breasts of the desperately ill, which shrewd and consciencelesss men might turn into an immense financial profit. There has been time and opportunity in plentiful measure extended to Dr. Friedmann and those who propose similar remedies for tuberculosis to demonstrate the therapeutic value of their treatments, but there has been no such demonstration of value. On the other hand, we have before us reports of the gravest character."

IN TRANSFER OF FOOD FISH.

United States to Undertake Cutting High Cost of Living.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Dipping one hand into the Atlantic and the other into the Pacific oceans to transfer food fish, the United States government, it was announced today, proposes to undertake practical measures to cut down the high cost of living. Lobsters from the Atlantic will be shipped across the continent to Pacific waters, in the hope that they may multiply, while salmon will be taken from the waters of the Pacific and cultivated in the waters of the rock bound coast of New England.

The interchange will be under the direction of the bureau of fisheries. Several carloads of breeding lobsters will be shipped to Washington, Oregon and California points each season and placed in waters to be selected for their suitability. The bureau announced that the transplanting will not be dropped before the experiment is tried long enough " to establish a flourishing colony or to demonstrate the futility of the scheme."

These Pacific salmon are expected to replace the salmon native to New England, which practically have disappeared from the streams and waters of the east.'

TWO SUNDAY FUNERALS.

For Eugene McGillicuddy and Edward Barker, Former Newporters.

The bod of Eugene McGillicuddy, who died in New York last Wednesday, was brought to Newport Saturday night and a funeral service was held Sunday afternoon from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Vincent Fraser, on East street, to St. Mary's Church. Rev. Father Hines officiated and at the close Mr. Thomas B. Connolly sang "Only Waiting." The burial was in St. Columba's cemetery, the bearers being John Sullivan, James Sullivan, Christopher Burns and John Connors.

Mr. McGillicuddy, who formerly lived in Newport, left here 14 years ago for New York, where he has since resided. He leaves a brother, Mr. James McGillicuddy, and two sisters, Mrs. Fraser and Miss Mary McGillicuddy, who reside here. His parents live in Ireland. This morning a mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church for the repose of his soul.

Edward Barker, whose funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the residence of his son, Fred A. Barker, on Van Zandt avenue, was for many years a resident of Newport, although he moved to Providence with his family about 12 years ago. His wife died about six years ago, but a number of children survive, including Mr. F. A. Barker and Mrs. George I. Steele of this city.

I AM SAVING MONEY IN OTHER WAYS.

Do you insure your home against fire? Why don't you save your fire insurance premiums? This is the reason: Because one building in twelve hundred and sixteen burns down, and you are afraid yours may be that one. But for every life there is a death. And don't forget this: If your house burns you can still make money and build another, but if you die, nothing can ever replace your money making ability except life insurance. Fire insurance is therefore a matter of choice, life insurance of necessity. Don't hang off any longer,—write, phone or call on Comerford, the New York Life Man, and let him show you something you will never regret. Over 233 Thames St. or any time, or any place. and held the Commercials to two runs in six innings.

Rogers scored at will and did some heavy hitting, especially in the fifth, when five runs were put over the plate through good base running and batting. Denniston did good hitting, with three hits in four times at bat, while Diggles found the ball twice in three times. Turner, the Newport boy with the Commercials, played a good game, with three put-outs on base, and also found the ball for a hit. The line-up and summary:

St. George's met its first defeat from a school team Saturday and its first shut-out of the season, Milton Academy winning, 3 to 0, in a game played in the rain on the Middletown grounds. In spite of the conditions the game was fast and well played. The pitching was exceptionally good, Felton of Milton allowing only two hits and the St. George's pitchers only three. Felton and Lewis each struck out six, and MacDermott, two. The fielding of both teams was excellent, Bush of St. George's making the only error, which assisted in Milton's scoring. The summary:

The New Hampshire and Delaware teams played the deciding game in the First and Second Divisions championship series, at the Training Station yesterday afternoon, the New Hampshires winning by a score of 4 to 3. The game was sharply played throughout, with few errors, and at the end of the eighth inning was a tie, New Hampshire winning in the ninth on a single followed by a two-bagger.

Delaware started the scoring with two runs in the first inning, Bark making a home run with one man ahead of him. New Hampshire scored two in the second, on an error, a stolen base, a base on balls and a single. Delaware's third run, in the fourth, came without a hit. New Hampshire evened the score in the sixth by supportive hitting. Rice pitched well for the New Hampshires, allowing only two hits and striking out 11. The summary is as follows:

The Fort Adams and Kansas teams played a close game at the fort Sunday afternoon, the fort winning by a score of 5 to 4. The soldiers practically won in the first inning, when they made four runs, batting Spicer out of the box. They made the winning tally in the sixth. Kansas made a good up-hill fight. Fort Adams made four of its seven hits off Spicer in the first and only three off Rector in the other eight innings. Jones pitched a good game for the soldiers, allowing only four hits and striking out seven. Rector had six strike-outs and gave only one base on balls. Both teams fielded well. O'Leary and Smith, two new players on the Fort team, made an excellent impression. The score:

The Broadway team played its first game of the season on the city playground on Vernon Avenue Sunday afternoon defeating the Montgomerys, 12 to 2. Byrnes pitched good ball for the Broadways. Mack the Montgomery pitcher, was erratic, but struck out seven. The Montgomerys made many errors, the uneven condition of the grounds being responsible for a number of the misplays. The score by innings is as follows:

HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT.

Resignation of Progressive Leader May Help Republican Reunion.

[New York Tribune.]

The resignation of a member of the Progressive state committee in New Jersey might ordinarily be a negligible incident. In the present case of Mr. Everett Colby, it is, because of its attendant circumstances, highly significant. For Mr. Colby was the author of that "New Idea" Republican movement in New Jersey which more than anything else in that state blazed the way for the Progressive movement, and he was last year, if not the most vociferous and spectacular, probably the most efficient leader of the Progressive campaign.

Now Mr. Colby peremptorily resigns from the state committee. Why? A short time ago it was made known that Mr. Colby favored a getting together of the Progressives and Republicans upon such a platform of enlightened ideas as the majorities of both parties are believed to approve. Instantly some of the extremists of the Progressive party metaphorically "jumped upon him" with all manner of denunciation. Thereupon Mr. Colby separated himself from their political company. The assumption of cause and effect is natural and doubtless correct.

There is reason for believing that the great majority of the Progressives in New Jersey will agree with and follow Mr. Colby rather than his opponents—even than that most conspicuous of the irreconcilable Bull Mooses who has been all things by turns and none long and who cynically admits that he is ready to belong to any party which will give him the advancement he desires.

There is in New Jersey an exceptionally good chance for Republican reunion, especially since the state law gives to all the voters, at free and open primaries, the chance not only of their county committees but also of their state committees. A great opportunity lies before the Republicans of that state, which we shall expect to see them improve.

FIRST TIME IN YEARS.

All Flag Officers of New York Yacht Club to Command Sailing Vessels.

For the first time in many years all three of the flag officers of the New York Yacht Club will command sailing vessels, which fact is considered to afford the best possible indication that the Corinthian element has nothing to fear from the ever increasing popularity of power and steam propelled craft.

Commodore Dallas B. Pratt will fly the blue broad pennant from his schooner Sea Fox, while Vice Commodore George F. Baker, Jr., an enthusiastic wind jammer and the organizer of the popular new 50-foot class, will sail on the Ventura of that class, though he will keep steam yacht Viking busy. Rear Commodore J. P. Morgan will have a similar duo in his 50-footer Grayling and steam yacht Corsair, which is now being put in commission.

Mr. Franklin A. Plummer, having been fleet captain under Messrs. Arthur Curtiss James and C. Ledyard Blair, will continue in that capacity under Commodore Pratt.

PERSONALS.

...Discarding for the occasion the walking stick which has been his constant aid since the accident which nearly disabled him more than a year ago, Nat Goodwin, the actor, smilingly underwent his fifth experience as a bridegroom Saturday at his home at Ocean Park, Los Angeles. The bride was Margaret Moreland, his leading woman on the stage, who was recently divorced from Charles Doughty, a real estate broker of San Diego.

...The ashes of the late Joaquin Miller, poet of the Sierras, were scattered Sunday among the flames of a funeral pyre built by the poet's own hands. The ceremony was held at the Miller home, the Heights, situated in the picturesque hills near Oakland, Cal. The Bohemian Club of San Francisco was in charge of the rites, which were witnessed by more than 1,000 people, including the poet's widow and daughter, Juanita, and many lifetime friends. The services were brief but impressive, and were in accordance with Miller's dying wishes.

...Mrs. Janey A. Lee, a sister whom she believed dead 40 years, greeted Miss Anna R. Mewes of Philadelphia, who alighted from a train at the Meriden, Conn., station. Miss Mewes also found several nephews and nieces, and there was an affectionate greeting all around. The sisters discovered that after reaching womanhood they lived in adjoining towns in Pennsylvania. They were parted as children when their parents died, going to the homes of relatives. News soon afterward reached the home of Anna of the death of her sister, and she grew up with this understanding. About a year ago she learned through acquaintances that her sister was alive and set out to find her.

...Prince Ernst August of Cumberland and Princess Victoria Luise of Prussia, only daughter of the German emperor, whose wedding occurred Saturday with all the pomp and brilliancy of the most ceremonial court of Europe, will ascend the throne of the Duchy of Brunswick at an early date. The direct line of rulers of the Duchy became extinct in 1884. It was the will of the German emperor that the estranged House of Hanover and the House of Hohenzollern should be reconciled, and the emperor made this announcement in a toast at the state banquet at the castle, in which he exhorted the prince and princess to devote their lives to the service of their future subjects, and confirmed in plainest phrase the general belief that the marriage was a love match.

Iced Tea.

To make iced tea put four heaping teaspoonfuls of Ceylon tea into a china or earthenware pot and pour on three pints of boiling water. Let this stand for 10 minutes; stir with a silver spoon, strain the liquid into a glass or china pitcher, set in a cool place till wanted. Half fill tumblers with cracked ice, put two lumps of sugar and a thin slice of lemon on this, and fill the glasses with the cold tea.

Strawberry Bananas.

Select six firm, good-sized bananas, split open carefully and remove the pulp. Beat the pulp to a cream, measure, and add one half as many strawberries, one tablespoonful lemon juice, three tablespoonfuls powdered sugar and one tablespoonful sherry or orange juice. Mix well together, being careful not to make the pulp too liquid; fill the banana skins and stand on ice.

SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Southern New England Chamber of Commerce was organized in Providence Saturday, with representatives from boards of trade, chambers of commerce and other business associations in Providence, Pawtucket, New Bedford, Newport, Attleboro, Brockton and Taunton. Ralph C. Watrous of Providence was elected president. Mayor Gainer of Providence and R. Livingston Beeckman of this city are among the vice presidents. H. A. Titus, president of the Newport Board of Trade, was elected a member of the executive committee; Mayor William MacLeod a member of the committee on harbors and navigation and Thomas P. KINSLEY'S WHARF

THE SEASONS OF THE HEART.

[Edward Wilbur Mason. In Lippincott's].

When meads are fair with green of spring,
When April's moon is bright,
Then hope is like a bluebird's wing—
It wakes the heart's delight.

When hills are crowned with rosy bloom,
When fragrant odors cloy,
Then love, like angel from the tomb,
Awakes the heart to joy!

When fields are ripe with tawny grain,
When songs of summer cease,
Then gratitude like golden gain
Awakes the heart to peace!

When winter silvers every pond,
When frost is on the streams,
'Tis then that memory's magic wand
Awakes the heart to dreams!

FANCIES.

I called upon a scientist
To see about some bugs.
He was at work, could not desist;
I found him beating rugs.

I called upon a millionaire,
One of these haughty mugs.
But he was down to earth for fair;
I found him beating rugs.

I've never seen the President;
But he puts on no lugs.
And I suppose that if I went
I'd find him beating rugs.

STILLWELL CONVICTED.

New York Senator, Found Guilty of Bribery, Loses His Seat.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Stephen J. Stilwell, state senator from the Bronx, recently exonerated by the New York state senate of charges of bribery, was found guilty of bribery this afternoon by a jury. The maximum penalty for the crime is 10 years imprisonment and $500 fine. He will be sentenced Wednesday.

The jury deliberated a few minutes more than two hours in reaching the verdict which automatically takes from Stillwell his seat in the Senate. The convicted legislator lurched forward a step when, in a silent court room, the foreman pronounced the finding. Then he stiffened before the court clerk, and answered the usual questions concerning his "pedigree." He is 47 years old and married.

Stillwell was led to the Tombs after Justice Seabury had denied the usual formal motion for setting aside the verdict. His counsel announced that an appeal would be sought.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

ONE COMBINATION ENOUGH.

The proposition to purchase a combination machine for the lower end of the city is simply adding what in the present day is considered another hose, as all apparatus except in the very largest cities, whether ladders, pumps or hose, carries chemical tanks. All hose wagons to be up to the times must have chemical tanks. Newport should have a pumping engine to fill a decided deficiency in the department, according to the insurance authorities. If this is an automobile pump its range of activity is so great that it makes little difference where it is located, and even if it were at the present Chemical station at the lower end it would serve the whole city. It could be run, too, by the present force of men on that apparatus. The demand that one section of the city must have a piece of apparatus because another has one shows strongly a renewal of the old volunteer ideas, which did not consider the interests of the whole.

DEATH TO THE FLY.

Too much cannot be said in favor of the campaign waged all over the country for the extermination of the common house fly. Health department officials are urging the people everywhere to be as thorough in their annual spring cleaning out of doors as inside the house, for it is the early warfare on the haunts of the pests and the clearing out of the breeding places in the beginning of the campaign which counts. It is evident that the health of any city or town will be wonderfully benefited if the clean-up idea is carried out in every possible way, as the early destruction of one fly, according to statistics, will prevent the development of countless numbers before the end of the summer.

Time was when the fly was accepted as an inevitable nuisance, with which humanity simply must contend whether it desired or not. People asked: "What is the use of killing a few flies when there are hundreds which come in their place?" The result was that not much attention was paid to these insects except to dispose of them in a general way when they became too obnoxious for comfort. Within a few years there has been a great public awakening to the grim fact that the fly, instead of being treated as a joke and something which must be endured because there is no easy way to being rid of him, deserves to be treated as a deadly enemy of the health of the human family, the scientists asserting that hundreds of deaths can be laid at his door. So every year the fight to rid the country of flies is pushed more vigorously and the result has been such that the indications are that his career is in great measure over and the days of triumph of this pest and menace to mankind are drawing to a close.

A great deal of the work done in this direction must be credited to the civic societies springing up all over the country, which devote much of their time to the extermination of these pests. The local organization has done much in this respect and the good it has accomplished can be plainly seen in the interest taken all over the city in the effort to exterminate the house fly early in the season. There is no one who cannot help in this campaign and no one who should not be willing to do all possible to rid the city of the nuisance and help the Civic League in its efforts to make the city clean and healthful and a better and more comfortable place in which to live during the summer months.

MODESTY AND MODISTES.

A Pittsburgh councilman has angered the women by proposing a municipal ordinance regulating their costumes, or the lack of them. The women retort that they do not complain when men wear tight trousers, and if they choose to wear tight skirts and slit them pretty well up the sides, partly to permit them to walk and partly for other reasons, it is their affair.

This might silence a Pittsburgh councilman, but it does not silence those women who object to some of the latest fashions. The modistes of Chicago have had a meeting and resolved that certain features of the present styles are indelicate and they will not make costumes of that character. Lately a London paper quoted a woman who makes costumes and a woman of fashion as agreeing that the newest models are indecent. What is perhaps equally pertinent—and not impertinent—were the remarks of several men in the same paper, objecting to the disclosures in the latest styles of dress. It was agreed on both sides that costumes are becoming thinner and scantier all the time, but some of the persons interviewed thought them artistic and others thought them improper.

A fashion despatch from Paris a few days ago declared that the styles worn by some of the English women at the races went far beyond—or perhaps we should say fell far short—of the costumes originated in Paris. This may have been an exaggeration, for the Paris fashion notes in some of the American papers last Sunday said the bodices are now almost perfectly transparent, and the only opaque thing about them is the ribbon worn around the waist. Perhaps this means more than it might seem to mean, for waists have been rather high of late.

A Pittsburgh councilman may easily be flouted when he attempts to regulate fashions by ordinance, but no one will deny that for the past year or two women who have some old-fashioned ideas about what should be exposed and what should be concealed have expressed increasing disgust at what may be seen every evening at the opera and in the "lobster palaces," while on the public streets in the daytime one may now see an approach to what used to be limited to the evening and indoors.

With this growth of transparent and very scanty garments there has been a not less marked deterioration in dances. There is not much use in criticising the performances in the public halls when objectionable dances are patronized by fashionable society. Without going too much into particulars, persons who are not puritanical recognize some connection between women's dress and evils which just now are particularly the subject of anxious discussion, and no one doubts that the dance halls constitute the most thronged entrances to perdition.

In Tuesday's London Times "A Peeress" writes: "My grandmother often told me of the shock she experienced on first beholding the polka, but I wonder what she would have said had she been asked to introduce a well-brought-up girl of 18 to the scandalous travesties of dancing which for the first time in my recollection are bringing more young men to parties than are needed." That last sentence is significant; it is not necessary to discuss its meaning. It does not meet the point to say that the turkey trot and the tango and the rest of them are not more shocking now than the waltz and the polka were when they were introduced. Have the waltz and the polka been perfectly innocent, and because society long ago went as far as those does it necessarily follow that it may now without danger go a good deal further?

This peeress adds in her communication: "I would only ask hostesses to let one know what houses to avoid by indicating in some way on their invitation cards whether the turkey trot, the Boston—the beginner of the evil—and the tango will be permitted." It is not simply the clergymen, who of course are too strait-laced for the rest of us, or an absurd Pittsburgh or Chicago councilman, who object to some of the fashions in dress and dance. Their objections might be brushed aside as perfunctory and professional, or as rude and grotesque. It is women who are good judges of what is suitable in costumes and customs who on both sides of the ocean are protesting against styles of garb and amusement now prevalent. Modesty and delicacy are not mere conventionalities and are invaluable guards of what is of vastly more importance.

President Wilson is said to be giving serious consideration to the sundry civil appropriation bill, which has not been passed in concurrence by both houses of Congress but is expected to be agreed to this week. The clause exempting labor unions and farmers' organizations from prosecutions under the anti-trust laws, which President Taft vetoed, is giving Mr. Wilson much concern. He is supposed to have assented to this before the bill was acted upon, but there has been such general objection to the provision that he is now inclined to give it further thought. As President Taft said when he vetoed the former bill, the exemption clause is class legislation of the worst kind, and President Wilson may yet see it in that light.

The Brooklyn bridge, the first built to connect New York and Brooklyn, had a birthday Saturday, it being 30 years ago, May 24, 1883, that it was opened for traffic. It has served the two cities well and is now apparently in good condition, in spite of the reports seven years ago that it was rapidly approaching a state of collapse. Now there are three other bridges and several under-water tunes connecting the two boroughs of the metropolis, while the ferry boats are still carrying their share of the traffic. Of the four bridges the old Brooklyn is the most artistic and still attracts the attention of those who pass beneath it, and it will undoubtedly continue to be useful as well as worth looking at for years to come.

The veterans of the Civil war are especially in the public eye this week, with their memorial services in the churches Sunday and their public exercises and the decoration of the graves of their fallen comrades Friday. It is well for the nation to stop and hear again the lessons which Memorial day brings afresh each year.

The question of new fire apparatus for Newport is likely to receive a thorough airing at the meeting of the Representative Council Tuesday evening. There will be no lack of information on motor-drawn and motor-driven machines, as there was at the former meeting and no man's word will be taken as final in the matter.

The excursion season is opening earlier than usual, and Newport is receiving its share of the business. The coming season promises to be unusually good for all shore resorts, and Newport with its new attractions at the beach will be well to the front of them all.

Another prize fighter has been killed in the ring. Is it not time these brutal exhibitions were stopped, by law or by some other method?

Sermon at the Christian Church Especially Adapted for Memorial Day.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Rev. Albert Loucks preached at the Christian Church Sunday morning from Revelations XIV:13. The sermon was on Peace and especially adapted for Memorial day, and a decoration service was carried out by the trimming of the audience room with flags and flowers, wistaria and white and purple lilacs.

Rev. Anson B. Howard preached at St. Paul's Sunday morning from Romans 1:16: "For I am not ashamed of the gospel." His theme was: In what is Christianity superior to the other three world-wide religions—Buddhism, Confucianism and Mohammedanism?

Bishop Perry is expected to preach at St. Paul's on the afternoon of June 8 and administer baptism.

Ferryboat Bristol of the Newport & Providence line commenced its summer schedule Sunday.

The last in the series of dances beginning at Oakland hall last fall was held with as large an attendance as ever, it having been from 150 to 200 throughout the season. Its financial success was so pleasing to the managers—Messrs. Arthur A. Sherman, Leroy Dennis and Jesse I. Durfee—that on the last night they furnished the entire company with ice cream and cake. At all the meetings they had provided cake and coffee without extra charge.

Mrs. William Langley, who has been very ill, is so much improved that she has been able to dispense with her nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Almy of Tiverton and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Chase of Middletown and their daughter, Eloise, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Almy of Glen street Sunday.

Mr. Louis Sisson and family went to Providence by automobile to spend Sunday. Although Mr. Sisson still uses crutches, he manages to go about his farm a good deal.

Mr. Henry Anthony of Quaker hill, who was taken seriously ill Friday, having a physician twice a day, was a little more comfortable this morning, but is still very sick.

Mr. Abner Brown, son of the late David Brown, was married last Monday evening to Mrs. Haire of Newport. They are living near Mint water brook, in the family with his mother.

A QUIET LITTLE WAR GAME.

Submarines Attack Ships—Third Division to Have Sham Fight Outside.

When the fleet came in Saturday in divisions, two hours apart, there was a quiet little war game between the submarine flotilla and the First division. There were three battleships—the Florida, Delaware and North Dakota—and four submarines of the [illegible]—and [illegible] Second flotilla in the game. The submarines divided themselves into pairs, and two attacked the Florida and two the North Dakota, which were first and third in line. They made their attack on both sides of the big ship, and in the rainy, misty weather technically torpedoed the big ships about four miles off shore. The Wyoming as the flagship was a neutral vessel and was not attacked, while there were not enough submarines to attack the Delaware, and the ships of the other divisions were out of the vicinity of the game.

Admiral Usher and the Third division—the Virginia, Georgia, Rhode Island and New Jersey—have left for outside, where tonight they will engage well off shore in a sham fight with the Beale and Walke, which under the cover of darkness will make an attack on the big ships. The destroyers left Sunday. The division will join the fleet Tuesday when it leaves for New York for Memorial Day exercises.

Today the Celtic is supplying the various ships with vegetables and the Ontario brought down a barge load of water to the Torpedo Station from the excellent supply at Bradford.

Battleship Arkansas of the First division, which has been under repairs at the Brooklyn navy yard, is on her way to Rockland, Maine, for her standardization trials, preparatory to taking her place in the fleet. The Arkansas will not participate in the naval parade incident to the dedication of the Maine memorial monument in New York May 30, as the Navy Department does not desire to interfere with her steaming trials. She will join the fleet probably at Annapolis.

The target scores of the vessels and their relative standing will soon be announced by the Navy Department. Lieutenant Donald C. Bingham, now on duty in the office of the director of target practice and engineering competition has been ordered to duty June 1 as ordnance officer of battleship North Dakota. He will be succeeded by Lieutenant Claudius R. Hyatt, recently on duty with the Atlantic submarine fleet.

RAIN MORE THAN WELCOME.

Vegetation Shows the Fall Was Appreciated, and Will Boom With the Sun.

The rainy period seems to have passed, leaving a total fall of 1.41 inches on Newport and vicinity. The farmers and gardeners say it was more than welcome, for things had begun to get dry, there having been only .40 of an inch of rain since May [illegible]. Vegetation shows that rain was appreciated, and with some sun things will now come out. The chilly weather had held things back, especially flowers, and it now seems that Memorial day will have an abundant supply of spring flowers, which a short time since promised to be gone by on that day.

Some rain fell early Sunday morning but not much; .10 of an inch was what the rain gauge showed, but it made a pronounced showing in some places and the streets looked wet to many there. There was a promise of a [illegible] Sunday afternoon, but only a few drops fell.

FOR CAMP FIRE GIRLS.

Lawn Party and Sale a Success, Although Some Features Were Omitted.

Although it was necessary to give up some of the features attached to the affair, the Camp Fire Girls had a successful lawn party and sale at the [illegible] of Mrs. Charles Gardner on Rhode Island avenue Saturday afternoon. The difficulty caused by the wet grounds was overcome by having the party in the garage, where the girls did a thriving business, having for wares a variety of flowers, ice cream and cake, punch and strawberries while Miss Julia Brown and Miss Bessie Griffith did pencil portraits of many of th visitors. Had the weather been suitable there would have been a May pole dance and the camp fire ceremonies for the entertainment of patrons.

The girls feel that the affair proved quite emphatically how many friends they really have, while of course there [illegible] those who did not come, believing the party would be prevented by the weather. Next time they hope to have better luck by choosing a pleasanter day.

The sale was under the auspices of Wawasee Campfire, assisted by Newport and Narragansett Campfires. The camp guardians were Misses Helen [illegible] Emery, Leonora McCarthy and Alice McCarthy, and the members of Wawasee campfire included Edith Na[illegible], Helen Schoentzeler, Ruth Huntington, Florentine Smith, Mary Holland, Beatrice DeLangie and Mabel Simpson.

The members of Newport Campfire were Alice Tripp, Katherine Lawton, Margaret Sweeney, Clare Kavanagh, Rose Shea, Gladys Carr, Annie Haggerty, Edna Wright and Helen Kavanagh, and those of Narragansett Campfire Gladys Beardsall, Gladys [illegible] Viaing, Winona Sweet, [illegible] Josephson, Ethel Johnson, Dorothy [illegible]dorff, Carrie Chapman and Ethel Hollendorff.

AGAINST CERTAIN DANCES.

At the last two masses at St. Mary's Church Sunday the pastor, Father Meenan, had something to say about dances and the desire of some of the young folks, including his own parishioners, to have some of the new dances to which there seems to be opposition in many quarters at the socials which they attend. He was quite definite in condemning this disposition to indulge in dances that call for criticism even from those who are not charged with looking out for the moral welfare of their parishioners.

Kennedy, for $025; a lot on Bliss road 45 by 73, to Thomas Maguire, for $570; a lot on Whitwell avenue, 40 by 90, to Raymond Sedanos, for $350; another lot on Whitwell avenue, also 40 by 90, to Michael Kennedy, for $325, and a third lot, same size, to Frank Lewis, for $305.

BIG DAY AT THE BEACH.

Real Summer Season Opens, With Many Excursionists and Automobiles.

It was a big day at the beach Sunday and another record for the season of the year was broken, despite the fact that the May processions at the Catholic churches were on and many people went to the cemeteries, as they always do on the Sunday before Memorial day. There was not only a heavy local patronage, but steamer Warwick came down the bay with the Ourself Club and its party, numbering nearly 1,500, with a fine band, while the Pontiac brought the British-American Society of Providence with about 300. A number of the places at the beach were open, but of course the season's business has not yet really started and the sales departments could not all be open. The car company had heavy traffic through the middle of the day, and the number of automobiles which early began to roll in Broadway showed that the real summer season had at length opened. The Providence boats, which usually begin their season the latter part of June, will start this week on the summer schedule. Steamer Mount Hope, Captain Ricketson, will begin Wednesday, running to Newport the first two days and going to Block Island Decoration day.

POLICE BUSINESS.

Tale of a Boy, a Bicycle, a Grazing Cow and a Rope Tied to a Stake.

The police had two men for drunkenness before the court Sunday morning. Each paid $2 and costs.

Officer Sugrue brought in two stray girls who belong in New York and it is stated came here with sailors. One was 16 years old and one 18 and they were evidently from orderly and well behaved families. Chief Crowley notified the New York police and they were sent to New York on the boat Sunday night.

A sailor from the Virginia smashed a window on Long wharf Sunday night and was gathered in by Sergeant Conroy and Officer Furey and held until this morning, when he was turned over to the patrol. The cost of repairing the window was paid.

A young girl, aged 14, but large for her age, is reported as missing from her home in this city. It is thought she has gone out of town.

Sunday night around 9 o'clock Lawrence Peckham, son of Julian Peckham of Paradise avenue, while riding his bicycle out Bliss road ran into an obstruction and was thrown, receiving quite a shaking up. On investigation he found he had run into a rope, one end of which was tied to a grazing cow and the other end to a stake driven into the ground. The field driver was notified and found that the cow was tied to a stake driven in a lot and could not get out on the road. In view of the fact that the lad was riding in the highway and struck the rope, it was evident that between the time of the collision and the visit of the field driver the cow had been shifted from the road to the field.

Some sailors Saturday boarded Mr. Bailey's launch Beatrice anchored off the Newport Yacht Club house and were discovered by members of the club. A little damage was done and Sunday an officer was on board to learn the amount, [illegible]

Four picture men are reported in town today. They have no license to do business here and the public are warned against them. The police are constantly warning people against these out-of-town picture enlargers.

JACK M'GEE FLIES.

Birdmen Give Exhibitions at Base Ball Games.

The birdmen are now giving exhibitions in conjunction with base ball games. Sunday at Rocky Point Harry M. Jones went up, but promptly came down and his machine was fished out of the bay. Engine trouble caused him to take a sudden glide into the water to save falling into the crowd on the ball field.

Jack McGee made a flight from Rumford to the Berkeley Oval in the Blackstone valley, where a game was stopped for him to alight. He was in the air 55 minutes, and since he found it full of holes was forced to fly high and low. He said the conditions were the worst he has experienced, barring once. While over the field he dropped base balls, one of which was caught by Henry Lynsky, third baseman of the Broadways of the Inter-City league.

NAVAL MILITIA TO CRUISE.

Summer Manoeuvres of Organizations to be Held During July.

Arrangements have been completed by the Navy Department for the summer cruises and manoeuvres of the naval militia organizations. DEMOCRATIC CONTROL.

Majority Party Planning Against Possible Reverses Following Tariff Bill.

Congressmen Not Anxious to Hold Hearings—Vice President Marshall Asks Information.

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, May 24.—While it is a long time before the Congressional elections, there is a lot of talk going on about the prospects of the Democrats retaining control of the House next time. That the majority party is somewhat stirred up is shown by the fact that already the campaign committee is being organized for the purpose of getting in early.

What every party fears is the reverse following a tariff bill. Only once in recent years—that is, since the Civil War fever abated—has a party been able to stem the tide of defeat following a tariff revision. In 1890 the Republicans were swamped by a tidal wave and the Democrats even more so in 1894. The revision of 1897 was not followed by a defeat for the Republicans because of the Spanish war, but even with war as an asset they only had 13 majority. The revision of 1909 was followed by the defeat of 1910.

The Democrats believe that they will be saved, because, they assert, there will be no serious effects as a result of the tariff revision. "There are three elements in there," remarked Congressman Slayden of Texas, pointing to the House chamber, "working for Democratic success—first, the Democrats, though they are not doing much except hoping; second, the Republicans, and third, the Progressives. The last two elements are doing their best for us. Every move they have made so far is to our advantage. They will overcome what we have done or will do to cause defeat next year."

Don't for a minute think that there is any number of Congressmen champing on the bit and tugging at the traces in their efforts to get at work on the several thousand bills that have been piled up in different committee rooms. Of course the Democrats were criticised by the opposition because they did not appoint the committees before the tariff bill was passed, but when the ways and means committee went to work there was a deal of "kicking" in private conversation.

"Who wants to sit in committee rooms and hold hearings during hot weather?" asked a prominent Republican member. "It's absurd for the Democrats to name the committees and keep us here all summer."

Take it altogether there is a right earnest desire on the part of most members of all parties to confine the session to tariff revision.

John Fitzgerald and Jim Mann, always good friends, were holding a conversation the other day and mention was made of the Progressives.

"I am not going to let them forget," said Fitzgerald; "that on the first day of the session the Progressives undertook to throttle debate, prevent all discussion and deny a man with a certificate the right to be sworn in as a member of the House. They have scored me for being in league with the Republican machine and a supporter of Cannonism, but they never accused me of undertaking any such proceeding as they tried. And I am going to keep them reminded of it."

"Why should any of the Democrats, even those representing wool and sugar states, help out the Republicans or the others who are seeking greater protection? Will they get any Republican votes when they become candidates for re-election?"

The question was asked in view of what Chauncey Depew pointed out not long ago as the fate of men who tried to help along some movement not in line with their party. There was Norris Brown, author of and chief promoter of the income tax amendment, defeated Beveridge, who voted frequently with the Democrats on the tariff, defeated; Bourne, author of and most vehement advocate of the Oregon idea, defeated in Oregon, and others could be mentioned.

The fact is these men know that they will not get votes from the opposition, and if they desert they will lose votes in their own party. Consequently the Democrats of the Senate, with the exception of those from Louisiana, may be expected to stand by the tariff bill.

Vice President Marshall asks the Senate when he doesn't know something about the rules and procedure, and he always gets a response. Senators are ever ready with advice on parliamentary questions and take pleasure in giving information to the Vice President, and yet some of the questions which Marshall has put up to the Senate has been puzzling and caused those learned doctors to debate and disagree among themselves.

ONE RACE FROM NEWPORT.

Eastern Yacht Club to Have Lively Cruise Along the Maine Coast.

The Eastern Yacht Club fleet in its annual cruise along the Maine coast this summer will cover practically the same course as last year, with the exception of the trip to Northeast Harbor, which will be omitted. The fleet will start from Marblehead July 3 and put in at Portland, Boothbay, Camden, North Haven, Billing Cove and Swan's Island, reaching Bar Harbor July 10, where the annual wind-up dinner will be held.

There are three preliminary events and one supplementary event of the cruise—the ocean race for the Clark gold cup, which starts from Newport June 28; an open regatta on the same day to Marblehead, for yachts of not more than 46 feet rating; the annual regatta July 1, for which the Puritan cup will be given, and the race for the Norman cups from Bar Harbor to Marblehead, on the day after the end of the cruise.

There will be plenty of incentive for racing during the cruise for in addition to cups offered by the three flag officers, the fleet captain and Francis M. Whitehouse, all of which will be awarded on a point system, there will be a special race in the West Penobscot for cups contributed by Morton F. Plant for sloops and Harry L. Maxwell for schooners.

FAIR WEATHER FOR CLOSE OF THE WEEK.

Unsettled weather will open the coming week throughout the country east of the Missouri river, according to the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin. There will be showers Tuesday or Wednesday in the middle Atlantic states and New England, but the weather will be fair during the closing days of the week.

There are no immediate prospects of unseasonably warm weather. Low temperatures will continue for a day or two over the northern and eastern portions of the country, followed by warmer conditions by the middle of the week.

Of Interest to News Readers.

For months Newport citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by residents of this locality.

Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable?

Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement?

Check Receding Gums.

A Remarkable Healing Agent and A Perfect Dentifrice in One Tube.

Too little care is taken of the teeth. A great majority of adults are more or less afflicted with soft gums.

The trouble starts years before we notice it. We do not pay enough attention to soft, spongy gums and to the starting of cavities and the accumulation of tartar.

We should have our teeth examined and cleaned every six months. We should thoroughly cleanse our mouths and teeth after each meal, before breakfast and before retiring.

These facts suggested to Dr. R. J. Forhan, of New York, the idea of experimenting for an ideal home curative agent. He succeeded. His product, called DR. FORHAN'S DENTAL CREAM is producing remarkable results. It is recommended by every Dentist familiar with its merits.

Ask The Frank L. Powell Pharmacy or your druggist for a 25-cent tube. Try it and if not satisfied, your money will be cheerfully returned.

PIMPLES WOULD ITCH AND BURN

On Hands and Arms. Then Came in Blisters. Broke and Sometimes Bled. Nothing Cured Until Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Rushford, N. Y.—"My trouble began about twenty years ago, by breaking out in little red pimples and running together just on my hands and arms. It would itch and burn and was very disagreeable. About one year ago it took a different form, coming on my face and hands in blisters. The blisters were on my upper lip and chin and were filled with water, would break and then sometimes would bleed. They were rather unsightly. They raised in blisters on my fingers also. They itched and smarted and burned until I nearly went wild. I used ———— Salve which seemed to cure for a time, and then it would return. I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to cure until I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I used them according to directions. I have not had any sign of the trouble since using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I can surely give them a great recommendation." (Signed) Mrs. U. M. Fenner, Dec. 28, 1911.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the skin. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

TWO MAY PROCESSIONS.

Children at St. Joseph's and Girls at St. Augustin's Make Fine Showing.

There were two May processions Sunday. At St. Joseph's at 3 o'clock the boys and girls had a large procession to the church and a reception of members in the various societies, followed by benediction and remarks by the pastor, Father Higney, who was assisted in the services by Fathers O'Rourke and McLaughlin. There was a very large attendance of parents and others interested in the young people, and the latter fully met the expectations of their elders by their appearance and the manner in which they went through the exercises. The girls as usual were in white and made a pretty appearance.

At St. Augustin's at 3:30 there was a May procession of the girls only, and there were enough of these to make a satisfactory showing. Dressed in white and with banners flying the procession from the school along Harrison and Carroll avenues was indeed a pretty sight. There was a reception of members in the various societies in the church and Father Reddy who was assisted by Father O'Rourke, made a short address to the children.

As usual, the weather smiled on the children; indeed it was the first really pleasant afternoon in some days and could not have been finer if made to order. It was the first May procession for each of the churches, as both were finished last May, and at both the people were well pleased with the fine showing made by the young people.

Charles H. Poole Addresses the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

Saturday evening Hon. Charles H. Poole, ex-member of the British Parliament from New Zealand, gave an illustrated lecture on New Zealand, at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. Following the lecture the regular Saturday evening program of moving pictures was given. The reading room, where the lecture was given, was packed to its utmost capacity.

Sunday afternoon at 4:30 the usual Bible Class was held. Mr. Poole speaking. A large church party left the building at 6 o'clock to attend the memorial services at the Second Baptist Church. Following the Church party Mr. Poole gave his farewell address at the Association, and was followed by an illustrated talk on "Through the Great Northwest." He left for New York Sunday night, for Pittsburgh.

GOOD FISH SHIPMENTS.

The fish shipment Sunday reached a total of about 750 barrels and with the other freight in the shed was altogether too much for the capacity of the depot. Today there is another big shipment, about 500 gallons being at the dock at 1 o'clock. Sunday C. B. Anderson caught 21 barrels of big mackerel in his off-shore trap, the most southerly one off Seaconnet point. The fish were so big that they ran 45 to the barrel. They were sold locally or to near-by cities.

10—Prices showed an irregular tendency at the opening of today's stock market, with material gains, however, in such active issues as the Harriman stocks, Lehigh Valley and American Can. St. Louis & San Francisco 2nd preferred, one of last week's features, soon rose over a point. Some heaviness was shown by Reading, Rock Island, Canadian Pacific and Tennessee Copper.

11—Profit takig in the Harriman stocks and selling at other points caused a short reaction. Canadian Pacific declined 2 points and Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and the Rock Island shares a point or more. St. Louis & San Francisco 2nd preferred declined 2¾ points.

Noon—Absence of confirmatory developments in the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific situation and other conflicting conditions imparted a degree of heaviness to the early session of today's stock market. The Harriman stocks and a few other prominent issues made gains at the outset, but these were soon effaced by selling, much of it seeming to have its origin with the short interests. Canadian Pacific yielded 2 points and with one-point losses in Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Reading and Rock Island preferred, St. Louis and San Francisco 2nd. preferred, which opened with a smart advance, soon fell back to a level approximating its recent low record. FIRE IN THE ATTIC.

Considerable Damage by Burning and Water to House on Tilden Avenue.

Sunday afternoon at 5:37, when some permanent men of the fire department were at supper, an alarm was run from box 23 for a small fire at the home of Remigio Pasqualetti, 20 Tilden avenue. At first it seemed to be only a little smoke, but no sooner had the alarm rung than dense clouds of black smoke were seen coming from the upper part of the house and soon the fire broke through the roof near the chimney.

It was necessary to put on hydrant streams to stop the fire and when the main blaze was under control, which was but a few minutes after water was put on, the 'Twos' hose was run through Chemical 1, so that the water used could be confined to the small chemical hose and the damage by water reduced to the minimum. As it was, the damage by water will be considerable, for the fire was in the attic and on the roof and it does not take long for a hydrant stream to wet down the entire interior of a small house. A considerable hole was burned in the roof.

The recall came in at 5:55, but it was half an hour later when the Chemical and truck were able to leave the scene. The damage will be considerable. The house is insured, but the furniture was not.

It is agreed that the fire was caused by the three-year-old "hopeful" of the family and was started in the attic. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pasqualetti were at the store when the fire was discovered.

A word may be said about the attendance of spectators. There was no means of counting them, but apparently there were about a million "kids," a thousand or so children and a large gathering of adults. The fleet patrol was on hand to assist the police in maintaining the fire lines.

THE IROQUOIS II LEADS.

Good Test of New 50-Footers in First Brush Over Glen Cove Course.

Seven of the nine New York Yacht Club 50-footers met in their first brush Saturday over one of the Glen Cove courses and Mr. Ralph N. Ellis's Iroquois II was an easy winner. It was a drifting contest from first to last, but clever handling, combined with more or less good fortune in the way of catching strong puffs, was responsible for the lead which the Iroquois II had at the end of the first leg and at the finish. The afternoon's sport gave the enthusiastic Corinthians a good test of their new yachts in one respect, but not as regards windward work or sailing in a good breeze, both of which they had hoped for. The yachts finished in the following order:

Yacht and Owner	Finish. H M S	Elapsed Time. H M S
Iroquois II., Ellis	6 45 47	3 50 47
Barbara, Whitney	7 02 51	4 07 51

LAST MEETING OF SEASON.

College Men Speak Before Mt. Zion Literary Society

At the meeting of the Mt. Zion Literary Society Sunday, the last of the season, Mr. Theodore Cable of Harvard University, the intercollegiate champion hammer thrower, spoke on athletics and their relations to college and life. There was a large attendance of members, and before the talk several solos were sung by Miss Kate Hurley, accompanied by Miss Edith Buchanan.

Mr. Cable spoke in defense of athletics, controverting the arguments which have been made against athletic sports and training, and claiming that athletics do much more good than harm. He spoke, also, of his own athletic career and the special advantages which athletics have held for the negro.

Messrs. Clarence L. Grinnell and J. O. Blanton of Brown University, spoke in a similar vein, and Rev. T. Wellington Henderson, D. D., pastor of the church, spoke briefly. At the close of the meeting, Miss Dion Jackson proposed a vote of thanks to Dr. Henderson for his services to the club during the past year.

DANCE OF FLAGSHIP WYOMING.

The junior officers of the Wyoming, flagship of the Atlantic fleet, gave a dinner and dance on board Saturday evening. Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, commander-in-chief, welcomed the guests, who were chaperoned by Mrs. Pratt, wife of Commander W. V. Pratt of the Naval War College. They included Mrs. Reginald Norman, Mrs. William N. Hughes, Misses Valerie Padelford and Nan Parker of Washington and Misses Roberta and Natalja Willard, Marguerite Caperton, Anne Powel, Ruth Thomas, Alice Little and Elizabeth Sands. The "Castle Walk," a new dance, was introduced by Miss Roberta Willard.

EVEN CHIEF KIRWIN PLEASED.

All the Visiting Fire Officials at Chelsea Satisfied With Showing.

Results of Severe Tests of the Big Robinson Machine Along Many Lines.

Newport did not have a very large delegation at Chelsea Saturday, but there were enough to bring home a report showing how far behind the times Newport is in the matter of fire protection. The big Robinson machine on test was not all, as fire officials were present from so many cities that there was opportunity to learn a great deal as to what is considered the proper thing where proportionate fire losses do not figure so high as in Newport.

Mayor MacLeod and Chief Kirwin returned to Newport on the same train, the former having been unable to go to the test. The mayor says the chief had no criticism to make of the showing made by the pump, and from his talk it was assumed that he thought well of the exhibition. Alderman Kelly was a careful observer of the entire test, and not only kept a record but hopes to have the official report of the underwriters soon.

Chelsea's double combination wagon balked at taking a load to the scene of trial, but the citizens thought nothing of it, for it has been doing that thing and the chief of Chelsea considers that it is the make of apparatus rather than the fact that it is an automobile that is the fault.

Among the fire chiefs present were those of Boston, Woburn, Lynn, Lowell, Hull, Quincy, Plymouth, Revere, Hingham, with fire officials from many other places, together with mayors and thousands of people from Chelsea and Greater Boston. In all this gathering there seemed to be nothing but praise for the big machine, as one after another phase of the test was gone through under the direction of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. For three hours the machine was under severe test, and all the time exceeding requirements, according to Chief Engineer George M. Booth of the board, who was in charge. Never once did it refuse to answer the throttle, and the makers' representatives frequently declared that the machine was not being driven to the limit.

The whole show was in the district swept by the great fire of five years ago, much of which is not yet rebuilt. First was the test in drafting from the bay for one hour, with readings every minute. When the trial was started it was noticed that she was taking air through her suction, but as the observers announced that she was showing a big margin of excess at the pipe there was no shutdown, except toward the end, when a shot of hose gave out. Playing through a 2-inch nozzle, which the underwriters' men said was in excess of the size, the machine delivered 935 gallons a minute, with a nozzle pressure of 82 pounds.

Then the machine was taken to a hydrant near the city hall and the tower, 128 feet high, was selected to play over. The record here was:

Streams	Size nozzle.	Pressure	Gals. per Min.
1	1¼	113	800
1	1⅜	125	876
1	2	74	1023
3	1¼	Record not taken
4	2 1-inch	90 and 105	1332
	2 1¼	55 and 78
1	2¼	40	1055

The lower pressure streams of course did not go over the tower and were not expected to do so, for in these cases the amount of water delivered was what was desired. It is estimated that the higher pressure stream went 35 feet over the top of the tower, and that is larger than is used in Newport. During this test a suction was blown off, but was quickly replaced with another. There were repeated shutdowns for the changing of the lines of hose to vary the size of streams, but each time when the signal was given for water to come again it came without delay, showing that the engines were positive in action.

A Boston paper describes the machine as capable of traveling at high speed to a fire. Pumping more water than two steamers, and in addition to being a pumping engine, it is a chemical, a hose wagon carrying 1,200 feet of hose and two 35-foot extension ladders. It is to be manned by a picked crew of five men, to be known as a "flying squadron," and is to be a modern fire department by itself.

The machine had been given speed and hill-climbing tests during the week, to every one of which it responded to the entire satisfaction of Mayor Willard and the fire officials. Chelsea has some hills, the like of which are unknown about Newport for steepness or length. When Chief Booth said the machine had exceeded all requirements Mayor Willard told the builders that a check was awaiting them in the city hall.

IN HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST.

Miss Susan Howland Sherman Awarded Scholarship.

At the annual meeting of the Rhode Island branch of the Collegiate Alumnae at the Rhode Island Country Club, Saturday, Miss Alice D. Mumford, chairman of the committee, announced that the scholarship for this year has been awarded to Miss Susan Howland Sherman of the Rogers High School of this city. Miss Mumford added that Miss Sherman's essay was so far ahead of all the others submitted that there was no difficulty in making the award. Five pupils of the high schools of the state participated in the scholarship contest, including one other from Rogers. Miss Sherman is a daughter of Mrs. Benjamin B. H. Sherman and a member of the graduating class at Rogers. She will enter Wellesley College in the autumn.

MANAGER HOLMES RETIRES.

Mr. Ellis B. Holmes, who for the past four years has been manager of the Opera House and is an old-time theatrical man, has decided not to accept an engagement with the new management, but instead will return to Brockton to give attention to his interests there. Mr. Holmes while here refused to abandon his home connections and has been anxious to return to them, and now that the opportunity opens he is not disposed to let it go by. While in Newport he has made many friends with those with whom he has come in contact.

MIDDLETOWN.

Junior Auxiliaries to Board of Missions Convene at Church of the Holy Cross.

[Regular correspondence of The News]

The first meeting in convention of all the branches throughout the diocese of the Junior Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was held Saturday at the Church of the Holy Cross. The guests assembled at the guild house soon after 11 o'clock. The first delegates to arrive were those from Trinity Church, Newport, a party of 31 girls and young women in charge of their president, Miss Mary A. Sayer, and accompanied by Mrs. Stanley C. Hughes, wife of the rector, and Miss Sherman. With them came Mrs. Emery H. Porter from Emmanuel Church, Newport, with a representation of 8 from that parish. Soon after Rev. Anson B. Howard of St. Paul's Church, Portsmouth, came, accompanied by Mrs. Frederick Cook with a delegation of 9. Those from Providence not arriving until soon after 12, music and games filled the intervening time of waiting.

At 12:15, upon an adjournment to the church, the services were opened by the rector, Rev. F. W. Goodman, with the hymn, "Jesus shall reign," followed by special prayers for all schools and hospitals, for the inspiration of children, the success of missions, and for the particular needs in special states. There were also prayers of thanksgiving for the many blessings vouchsafed the community.

In a brief, informal way Rev. Mr. Goodman extended a hearty greeting and welcome to the visitors and expressed his appreciation of the great honor done his parish in the selection of the Church of the Holy Cross for this important service. Rev. W. M. Chapin of St. Andrew's School, Barrington, also made brief remarks upon the missionary work of the church.

The roll-call of the churches of the diocese was then given by the secretary, Miss Shepard. This list was presented to Rev. Mr. Goodman and as they were called a member of each Junior organization advanced to the chancel and gave the apportionment or offering for the year. Emmanuel Church, 8 members attending, $40, offering presented by Miss Beatrice McKenzie; St. Luke's, East Greenwich, $5; St. John's, Barrington, $35, presented by Edith Midwood; St. Agnes branch, $15, presented by Mildred Chapin; Trinity Church, Pawtucket, 4 members, $15, Marian Rawlings; Holy Cross and St. Mary's, Middletown, 8 members, $5, Elizabeth Brown; St. George's, Central Falls, $15; St. Stephen's, $25; Trinity, Newport, $50, presented by Marian Brown members present 21; St. Paul's, Portsmouth, $5, numbers present 9—a total of $210.

Some of the churches sent their offerings, while others were not represented. Rev. Mr. Dickey was present to represent St. George's, Newport. The officers of the diocese were all in attendance—Miss Anna W. Jackson of Providence, president; Miss Margaret E. Shepard of Barrington, secretary and Miss Lucy E. Small, Pawtucket.

The noon service closed with a hymn and all adjourned to the guild house, where the delegates had a basket lunch, there being about 100 present.

Soon after 2 o'clock the services were resumed at the church, Rev. Mr. Goodman reading a letter from Miss Grace Lindley from the Mission House, who is the general head of the Junior branch. The speaker of the afternoon was then introduced, Rev. E. Philips Osgood of the Church of Our Saviour, Roslindale, Mass., who gave a powerful and inspiring talk on the text, "And God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that all who believe on him might have everlasting life." As he talked he drew, with crayons, a door, called "Welcome," upon a large sheet of manila paper, and then a doorstep, on which he wrote: "I am told." Next a star was added for a doorplate, then an evergreen wreath about it. Panels were added, forming a cross, then a keyhole, around which were the words: "I ought to." This is opened by the key, "Duty," upon whose handle is written: "I want to. I ought to." The door knob was then drawn, upon which was "I will." Two hinges read: "Be good. Do good." The door then opened, showing within the red room of the heart, with the words "Loves, Gives," upon its walls, and upon opening the heart, the face of Christ was disclosed.

The address was given in story form, in an interesting manner, after the familiar form of "The House that Jack built." In conclusion Rev. Mr. Osgood had the children repeat the completed statement several times, which was: "I am told that my best self is always giving, is always self-giving, is always giving for others. I ought to be that best self. I want to be. I will be, by being good and doing good. My best self is love and that love gives, and love gives God." Rev. Mr. Osgood, who is a stirring, magnetic speaker, held the close attention of all present. He is actively engaged throughout New England in this work, under the Board of Missions, besides attending to the duties of his own parish. He was obliged to return, immediately after the service, to Boston.

In closing the exercises of the day Rev. Mr. Goodman gave a short talk on the Esquimaux of Tigara, the farthest north mission station, where he spent last year in missionary work. A cordial invitation was extended the convention to meet here again next year. The service closed with a hymn and prayers.

The church was filled throughout the day, extra chairs being placed down the aisles. The rain affected the attendance somewhat and prevented many from coming from out of town.

Rev. E. E. Wells of the Methodist Episcopal Church began Sunday evening his series of talks on "The Home," which will be continued throughout June. The first topic, "Scriptural Marriage," was based upon Matthew XIX:6: "Wherefore they are no more twain but one flesh," and also "What God hath joined let no man put asunder." There was a large attendance. Mrs. Fred P. Webber acted as organist and the augmented choir was assisted by Mr. Frank T. Peckham, cornetist.

The Sunday school attendance at this church has continued excellent since the recent contest and at no time has fallen below 160. There was also a large attendance at the afternoon service Sunday. The choir rendered the Twenty-Third Psalm, arranged by Carl H. Stork in anthem form with Mr. and Mrs. John H. Peckham in the duet parts. The chancel was decorated with a profusion of lilacs and potted Easter lilies.

The Epworth League has settled upon July 15 as the date of the annual lawn party. Although the place has not been decided, it is expected that it will be held, as in many former years, at the church at the Four Corners.

TROJANS SHUT OUT ATTLEBORO.

Rogers Win from Commercial and St. George's Blanked by Milton.

New Hampshire Takes Deciding Game from Delaware, and Fort Adams Beats Kansas.

The weather favored the Trojans and also the large gathering of spectators Sunday, when the Attleboro team played its return game at Wellington Park. There had been a few drops of rain, but not enough to alarm any one, and the attendance was the largest of the season. The temperature conditions were about ideal, not too hot nor yet too chilly.

The game was somewhat one-sided. It was evident that the Trojans knew they could win, and all they tried for was to win and give the other team a chance at a string of zero signs. They were successful in both endeavors, but it looked like a close squeak on the zero signs in the third and again in the ninth. However, the Trojans pulled out of both holes and the visitors went back to Attleboro without a run.

Yet they had a good team. In practice they showed well, doing some clever fielding and backing up. It was at the bat that they fell down. Jakey Sheehan had the Indian sign on them and they knew it, and no one knew it better than did big Crehan, the first baseman, whom the crowd jollied. There was also some good fielding behind Jakey's work, so that he did not need to do it all himself.

In batting, however, the Trojans made no effort to break the ball. They just wished to win, and if they could win without hitting or too much exertion they seemed to prefer it that way. White, who did the pitching, is an Attleboro high school boy who went in as substitute for the Attleboro high school team when it played Rogers a short time ago and was bit more by the High School batters than by the Trojans.

It was a quickly played game, undoubtedly the fastest in the mere matter of time seen on the park. One hour and eight minutes, 68 minutes, is going some for a game, and yet that was the time.

The game opened rather promisingly. With two out Lamond hit safely and was caught between the bases on a quick throw by Sheehan. Then Cooney opened with a safe drive for the Trojans and was left on third on poor hitting. In the second Sheehan gave his only free trip to first, hitting Uhlig, and sent him still further with a wild pitch. Then the Trojans broke the scoring blank. O'Connell was safe on a fumble and went to second on a wild pitch. Carr hit safely to right and on a fumble O'Connell was able, by super-exerting himself, to reach home just ahead of the throw. Carr was an easy out, trying, or half trying, for second. In the game at Attleboro Flavin could not throw, but he could in this one.

The visitors had their good chance in the third. O'Connell dropped Flavin's high fly and White hit safely and two were on with none out. Murray tried bunting, but Sheehan was on the job and Flavin was nipped at third. Curry tried to break the ball, driving a grounder to Sheehan, and there was a double play, the only one of the game, and the visitors had lost their chance.

In the third Sheehan gave an exhibition of going to sleep running the bases, and it was in trying to steal second, too. In the fourth came the only exhibition of what the spectators desired to see, some hitting. West opened with a drive against Ernst Voigt's sign in left which bounded well back into the field. It was good for two bases. Martin hit safely to centre and West had scored the second, and as it proved the last, run of the game.

In the eighth, with a runner on second and one out, Martin made the catch of the game, a foul fly from Cox's bat which he took close to the ropes and which called for liberal applause.

The visitors had a narrow escape from a run in the ninth. Eckstrom fumbled Murray's grounder and the runner was called out on a close decision when Sheehan covered the bag. Curry hit safely to left and Martin let the ball escape him. A passed ball sent the runner to third and he had a narrow squeeze from stealing home while the Trojans were asleep, Carr nipping him at the plate on a quick throw after the Trojans had woked up.

Uhlig in right and Curry at third did some nice fielding for the visitors. Gillies was in the game for the Trojans and with Cooney and Harvey and Martin broke up the usual listless game. The score:

Rogers won for the second time over Rhode Island Commercial School Saturday at Providence, in the rain, 12 to 6, in a strange game which had many hits and few errors. There was some uncertainty in the morning and some of the players left at 9 and others at 10. One party reached the field and had played three innings, with only seven men, before the other arrived. The score was 4 to 1 in favor of Commercial at the time, but the new-comers went to work and soon the Rogers boys rolled up a good lead. The feature was a home run by Pitcher Frank Geraghty of Rogers, the first in a Rogers game this year.

The Commercial team did not seem to be in the game at all, frequently changed players and positions, and were lacking in team work. Geraghty pitched his second full game for Rogers, being against the same team in his first game, and did good work. While at first he was hit freely, in the last five innings he tightened down
